

Annual Report

July 1, 2020 to June 30, 2021

FROM THE BOARD

Jill Bates

I am the Treasurer of the BMFA, and as such, it is my duty to safeguard the finances of our organization. This past year (2020/2021), like the year before, has been topsy-turvy due to the negative effects of COVID 19. There have been many changes to both programmes and events, and, once again, as of our year end, the BMFA was in a deficit position. However this was offset by an excess of revenue over expense, leaving the organization in a positive position. We have been fortunate, to have received several federal subsidies. As well, due to the dedication of our manager, we have received a number of grants. As the COVID 19 epidemic slowly subsides, the BMFA can look forward to a more secure and sustainable future.

Don Brommet

The last year at the BMFA was a pivotal year to say the least. With Covid impacting all businesses, the arts were especially hard hit.

This required the organization to change how it represented art in the community by going virtual, reducing costs to survive with significantly reduced revenues and work hard to find and qualify for limited grants and donations.

New directions were taken, many of which will be carried forward in this new world. Regardless of these challenges, the BMFA continued to build its presence.

Myshel Enderlein

While contributing from a distance, I have had a busy first year with the BMFA. I most enjoyed fundraising for the Endangered Species Project and helping plan our big Spring Fundraiser. I am looking forward to what we have in store for 2022!

Judy Morrison

The past year has been a challenge for everyone involved with the BMFA, the staff, Board and artists included. Through the solid and creative efforts of our administrator with the ongoing support of the board, we were able to host our annual Juried Art Show and Photo Competition. As well, there were other opportunities to showcase the art created by our members and despite the challenges, they were successful. Things will continue to evolve in the local arts community and the BMFA is well placed to be a valuable contributor as we move forward.

David Saunders

What is store for the BMFA? Will we be a host for programs and artists as we are now, or will we become a facilitator? It is not new that the climate and conditions keep changing in the arts. What is new, however is that we have a group of Board Members who are anxious to grasp the challenges and opportunities that will inevitably come their way. Thanks in large part to Susan Cook for bringing this talented group to the table.

Online Art Shop

In the fall of 2020, facing disruptions, the BMFA developed an online store. Celeste Marcoux assisted with the creation and the shop opened in December 2020.

Through community connections, it was evident in coming months that a collaborative approach would be beneficial to encourage art sales.

In the spring of 2021 we entered into an agreement with Lory MacDonald of Artfest. Member artists were moved to the new online environment, where Lory has been dedicating much of her time to the busy virtual shop. The BMFA retains a residual payment and artists enter into an established shop with ongoing Promotion. Interested member artists should contact admin@bmfa.on.ca for more Information.
